

ALEXANDER & WILKS

Alexander & Wilks craft luxury ironmongery using time-honoured craftsmanship techniques combined with the latest computer-aided manufacturing. This fusion of traditional and modern techniques results in stunning ironmongery that features precise detailing.

The name Alexander & Wilks was inspired by Maurice Wilks and Sir Alexander Issigonis, notable British engineers. The name perfectly suits the brand's attitude of wanting to showcase the best of British design.

ORDER ONLINE

Crafted from Solid Brass

Each piece begins with a solid brass foundation—renowned for its strength, weight, and timeless quality—ensuring every detail feels as refined as it looks.

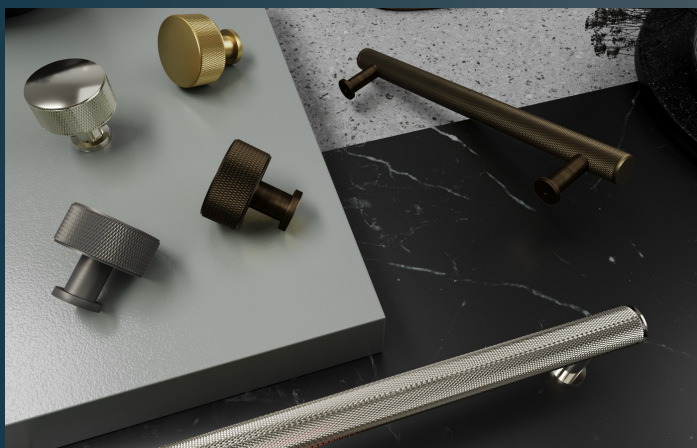

Durable PVD Coating

Advanced PVD coating technology delivers a long-lasting, tarnish-resistant finish, combining beauty with enduring performance in everyday use.

Four En Vogue Finishes

Choose from a curated palette of four contemporary finishes, each selected to complement both classic and modern interiors.

Distinctive Textures

Defined by precision-cut linear and knurled textures, our designs offer a tactile elegance that elevates both the look and feel of every piece.

ORDER ONLINE